HOW TO FOLLOW THE RACE

Whether you're watching at home or joining the action around the Island, there are a number of ways that you can follow the race.

Our live Race Blog on the event website will be providing a running commentary on the progress of the race - along with pictures and video clips - from the first start at 0800 through to the finish. Meanwhile, our tracking system will be monitoring the position of all 1,100 boats taking part, so you can see exactly where your favourite boats are on the racetrack.

We'll also be live on all the usual social media channels (see the front cover for details), and of course, you can watch the race in person from one of the vantage points around the Island using our guide below to the likely times at which the fleet will pass different places during the 50 nautical mile course.

THE COURSE

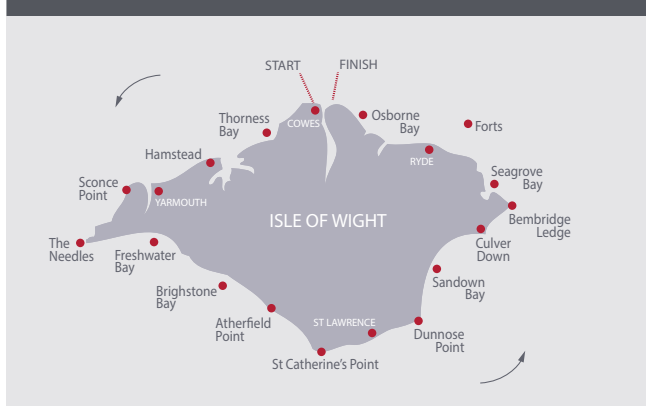

The Round the Island Race course really couldn't really be much simpler!

The boats cross the start line at Cowes in eleven separate groups, starting every 10 minutes from 0800 until 0930 and heading in a westerly direction towards Yarmouth.

The boats pass round the Needles Lighthouse, along the south-west coast of the Island to St. Catherine's Point and then up across Sandown Bay to round the Bembridge Ledge Buoy.

The fleet then makes its way either side of No Man's Land Fort and across Osborne Bay to the finish line back at Cowes.

Perfect for listening to with a cold beer in your hand!

THE ONLINE PHOTO GALLERY

Whilst we employ professional marine photographer, Paul Wyeth (pwpictures.com) to capture all aspects of the race (see event website for images), participants and spectators are encouraged to record their own unique experiences too.

Our online photo gallery allows anyone to share their pictures of the race with fellow competitors and sailing fans around the world. In 2022 thousands of images were uploaded by people taking part, and many wonderful shots were featured on the Round the Island Race website.

If you'd like to share your pictures of the 2022 race, just select your favourite images and upload them via the website (rtir.me/upload) from the day of the race.

Once they've been approved by the ISC, your pictures will be available for everyone to see - and because each image will be tagged with the name of the boat featured, you'll also be able to see who has captured pictures of your own race around the Island.

OFFICIAL MERCHANDISE

There's a great selection of race merchandise available on the merchandise page of the event website and in the Race Village at the Cowes Yacht Haven.

To celebrate being the Official Race Timekeeper Partner, family-owned Marathon Watch Company have launched a Limited Edition Round the Island Marathon Stopwatch - a serious piece of shockproof, waterproof, nautical kit.

The official Helly Hansen Round the Island Race 2022 Collection is available at the Cowes High Street Store, Race Village Stand or order at rtir.me/merchandise and pay/collect in the Helly Hansen Cowes store.
